

CommLab announces 2017 Class Schedule

14 DEC 2016 – Charlotte, NC –

The CommLab at the Helicopter Flight Training Center provides a hands-on environment for communication specialists. Training includes both inter-facility and scene transfers, multiple aircraft requests, map reading, flight following and more. Several communication centers have realized the immense benefits of the CommLab and are planning to send their communication specialists to classes in 2017.

The CommLab is available to all communication specialists and will conduct classes on the following dates in 2017:

January 9-10

February 13-14

March 13-14

April 10-11

May 8-9

June 12-13

July 10-11

August 14-15

September 11-12

October 9-10

November 13-14

December 11-12

Representatives from the CommLab will attend the Air Medical Transport Conference December 13-15 in Charlotte, NC. For more information, visit Metro Aviation at Booth #1001.

CommLab classes are limited and fill up quickly. Classes can be scheduled at commlabshreveport.com.
